Step 2: Pending transactions

To provide you with an efficient service we will not wait for pending transactions to complete before we process your instructions. If you have a pending transaction (a redemption or purchase) currently in progress at the time we receive new instructions (Step 3: Investment redemptions or Step 4: Investment purchases) it may result in a variance to your instruction and your request may not be fully completed. This may result in a balance remaining in an investment where you intended to redeem 100%.

By ticking the box below you can instruct us to wait for all pending transactions on investment options included in your new instructions to complete before we process your instructions.

I acknowledge my request will not be actioned until all pending transactions on investment options included in my new instructions are completed.
